Poison Hemlock Treatment and Removal by City of Richmond in King George Park trails by McNeely

The City of Richmond has sectioned off the area of trails close to the McNeely sidewalk by the roundabout and parking lot to treat poison hemlock. Please note the instructions and information from the City of Richmond below.

1. Please stay on pathways and do not disturb plants adjacent to sidewalks, or within the pathways/trails
2. We will be treating the area with glyphosate and areas will be properly delineated as best as possible, just like with knotweed treatments.
3. There will be pesticide use notice signs posted as per the City's Public Health Protection Bylaw as well as educational signs about the poison hemlock within the area reminder for the public.

For more information, please see the health link webpage: <https://www.healthlinkbc.ca/healthlinkbc-files/poison-hemlock-conium-maculatum>
